Convicted for "Lottrey."

Peter Trafieri, a confectioner on West Broad street, Richmond, was fined $20 and costs in the police court last week for "setting up and promoting a certain lottery or raffle for the distribution of boxes of candy as prizes by chance."

Trafieri was found guilty of what numerous other confectioners and merchants throughout the city are daily engaging in and have been for years. There are hundreds who are doubtless familiar with the plan. One purchases for 15 cents, or a like sum, an envelope, in which enclosed is a slip of paper, bearing a number. The slips are of varying colors. A slip of one color entitled the holder to a package of candy usually retailed for 5 cents; the holder of a yellow slip to one worth 10 cents, and so on through the list. A blue slip entitles the holder to a half pound box and the holder of a red slip to a pound box. The numbered slips are deposited in a hat or some other convenient receptacle and one of the slips extracted by a disinterested party. The holder of the number extracted is entitled to a five pound box of confections. Police Justice Crutchfield held that the practice was a lottery pure and simple, and rendered his decision accordingly.

Gilbert K. Pollock, who represented Trafieri, stated that his client would plead guilty to the charge, at the same time asking that the minimum fine be imposed. "Mr. Pollock," the police justice said in no uncertain tones, "this is lottery and gaming of the most flagrant kind, and one in which small boys are permitted to indulge. If I did my duty I would fine your client under the statutory law and not under the common law, which I shall do in this instance, however. A second offence will mean conviction under the statutory law, and the imposition of the maximum fine, which carries a jail sentence, with it."

"This kind of game of chance has got to be broken up. I hereby warn the merchants who are conducting similar lotteries that they do so contrary to the law and subject themselves to a heavy fine in addition to a jail sentence. I understand that the merchants have been misinformed, however," he went on. "There should be no misunderstanding after this case, nor will I accept any excuses of protestations of ignorance of the law."

The Price of Butter.

The discussion given to the subject of cost of living has directed more or less attention to the federal oleomargarine tax and the price of butter. People who are in favor of repealing the present oleomargarine law have taken advantage of the situation to loudly condemn as "undemocratic and un-American" this "burdensome tax on a pure, wholesome and nutritious food product."

They conveniently forget to explain that over 97 per cent of the oleomargarine put upon the market is taxed at only one-fourth cent per pound. They do not explain that only that colored oleomargarine that is artificially colored is taxed at ten cents per pound.

Even if it were all taxed at ten cents per pound it would have absolutely nothing to do with the price of butter after the latter reaches thirty cents a pound retail. It costs about fourteen cents a pound to produce the very best grade of oleomargarine. Add to this a ten cent tax and the cost of production would be twenty-four cents. The product could be retailed at thirty cents at a handsome profit to manufacturer and retailer.

Looking at the question from any view point it is clearly seen that the oleomargarine law has absolutely nothing to do with the price of butter.

The dairy interests of the country are not enjoying any benefit through oleomargarine legislation except as the integrity of the industry is maintained. In this every honest citizen should feel a keen interest. He should also understand that the effort put forth by the manufacturers of oleomargarine to secure legislation which will make it easy for men to commit fraud in selling oleomargarine is not inspired by love for the "poor man who wants a cheap substitute for butter."

The whole proposition may be thus summed up: oleomargarine is new made to taste and smell something like butter. The manufacturers and a few retail dealers want the privilege of putting it upon the market so that it will look like butter, thus making it easy to commit fraud.

Every good citizen should be interested in effective pure food legislation and the oleomargarine law is just such legislation—no more, no less.

Commissioner's Notice.

Commissioner's Office, Berryville, Va., December 6, 1910.

Smith & Reardon, Trustees

R. L. Brooks et al.

Extract from a decree entered in above cause at the November Term, 1910:

"On consideration whereof, the Court doth adjudge, order, and decree, that this cause be referred to one of the Commissioners in Chancery of this Court, who is directed to enquire and report to the Court—

1. All the real estate and personal, belonging to Robert L. Brooks, his share or interest therein, where situated, and what is its fee simple value and annual value.

2. All the real estate and personal estate, belonging to Sadie Brown, her share or interest therein, where the same is situated, and what is its fee simple and annual value.

3. All the real estate and personal estate, belonging to Chas. L. Brooks and J. W. Brooks, infants, and what is its fee simple and annual value.

4. Whether the interests of the said infants will be promoted by the sale of the real estate mentioned in the Bill and The Cross Bill, or any part thereof, and the investment of the proceeds in other property, and whether any rights will be violated by such sale.

5. Who would be the heirs of the said infants, if they were dead, and who are all the persons who are and can in any way be interested in this suit, and whether all such persons are properly before the Court in this Proceeding.

6. The liens upon the said real estate of the said Robert L. Brooks, Sadie M. Brown, and Chas. L. Brooks, and what are the respective amounts and priorities.

7. Whether said real estate will in five years rent for a sufficient sum to pay off and discharge said liens and the costs of this suit.

8. He will settle the accounts and evidence, said Sadie M. Brown and Robert L. Brooks, and the accounts of the Trustees and Receivers.

9. And such other matters as any party in interest may require, the same being pertinent.

10. But before proceeding to take said accounts and make the several enquiries here directed, the said Commissioner shall give notice to all the parties to this suit of the time and place of executing this order by publication thereof for four successive weeks, in some newspaper published in this County.

11. And the Commissioner is directed to enquire and report what property Robert Brooks is entitled to hold as exempt under the deed of trust and under the law. The Commissioner is directed to also report what exemptions Sadie Brown is entitled to."

The parties to the above suit and all parties interested, will take notice that on the 31st December, 1910, at my office in Berryville, Va., I will proceed to execute the decree entered in this cause by the Circuit Court of Clarke County, on the 30th day of November, 1910, when and where they will attend with their books, accounts, vouchers and evidence, to enable me to comply the order of the Court. If said order is not completed on that day same will be adjourned from day to day and time to time till completed.

vs.
T. J. Wilson.

Extract from a decree entered in above cause at the November Term, 1910:

"It is adjudged, ordered, and decreed, that this cause be referred to one of the Commissioners in Chancery of this Court, who is directed to enquire and report to the Court—

First, all the real estate owned, by the Judgment debtor, T. J. Wilson, where situated, its description, and the quantity thereof.

Second, the liens held upon the said real estate, by whom held, their respective amounts and priorities.

Third, whether said real estate will in five years, rent for a sufficient sum to pay off and discharge said liens and the costs of this suit.

Fourth, and such other matters as any party in interest may require, the same being pertinent, or such other matters as said Commissioner himself may deem pertinent, whether so required or not.

But before proceeding to take such an account, the said Commissioner shall make publication of the time and place, where he proposes to execute this order, by notice published for four consecutive weeks in some convenient newspaper."

The parties to the above suit, and all parties interested, will take notice that on December 31, 1910, at my office in the Town of Berryville, Va., I will proceed to execute the decree rendered in said cause by the Circuit Court of Clarke County, on the 28th November, 1910, when and where they are required to attend with such books and vouchers, and evidence, as will enable me to comply with the order of the Court.

Pain in Heart

"For two years I had pain in my heart, back and left side. Could not draw a deep breath or lie on left side, and any little exertion would cause palpitation. Under advice I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Nerve. I took about thirteen bottles, am in better health than I ever was, and have gained 14 pounds."

MRS. LILLIE THOMAS, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

For many years Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been very successful in the treatment of heart troubles, because of its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles. Even in severe cases of long standing it has frequently prolonged life for many years after doctors had given up all hope, as proven by thousands of letters we have received from grateful people.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold by all druggists. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your druggist will return your money.
